WP 551 Christian Worship

Thursday Afternoons, 1-4 PM, Beginning January 9

This course is a study of the history, theology, form and content of Christian worship. Emphasis is placed upon the development and practice of worship in the Protestant tradition. Opportunities are given for practical experience in planning and conducting of services, which include the Lord's Supper, baptism, weddings, funerals, and other elements of the worship of the Church.

Dr. Miller brings 10 years of pastoral ministry to his current work teaching students in the area of practical theology. Ordained as a minister in the ARP and also licensed in the PCA, he has served ARP and PCA congregations. He also serves as the City Director for the C. S. Lewis Institute in Greenville and as the translator of French Reformed works into English. Dr. Miller enjoys helping the classroom feel like a fellowship of students connecting not only with the content but also with each other.

OT 762 The Song of Solomon and Wisdom in the Bible

Thursday Evenings, 6-9 PM, Beginning January 9

This course is designed to give the student familiarity with the wisdom books of the Bible, climaxing with a close study of the Song of Songs. After exploring Proverbs in its Ancient Near East setting, the mystery of suffering in the book of Job, and the mystery of existence in Ecclesiastes, the mystery of sexuality as encountered in the Song is examined. Students consider the New Testament's final word on wisdom and learn to interpret the wisdom texts in their whole canonical context. Prerequisite: to receive exegesis credit for this course, students must have successfully completed BI 502 Principles of Exegesis prior to taking this class.

Dr. Schwab worked as an engineer before pursuing theological studies and has served as a counselor as well as a scholar. His "real world" experience, approachableness, and creativity shape his teaching. He is the author of several books on Old Testament topics. He serves as a minister in the Evangelical Presbyterian Church.
