PASTORAL VACANCY—BETHEL BIBLE MISSIONARY CHURCH

Bethel Bible Missionary Church has carried out Great Commission ministry in Upstate South Carolina since 1970, for most of that time in and serving the West Greenville community.

BBMC's recently retired pastor, Rev. Vardrey E. Fleming, leaves a long-standing legacy of community development, having fostered significant expansion of affordable housing in partnership with local municipal governments and agencies. Under his pastoral leadership, the church has also been instrumental in local and international missions, conferences, addiction recovery, statewide Bible camp, elementary-level Christian academy education (including after-school program), community food distribution, Christian athletics, and youth ministry.

BBMC is a multi-generational, cross-cultural, non-denominational congregation now ready to forge the next chapter of our journey and is seeking a shepherd capable of leading us to even higher levels.

The ideal candidate will operate under the authority of God, be above reproach, be of honor and integrity, and show love, first to Jesus then to others. They will also demonstrate full-service ministry through whole life discipleship to the church and surrounding community with versatility and reliability. Respecting all people and demonstrating teachability, approachability, and relatability, they must have a reputation as a gifted teacher and preacher who readily and willingly shepherds, growing leaders in the congregation and the community through visionary leadership.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Born-again believer with at least 5 years of Christian experience, called by God and licensed and ordained with thoroughly tested and proven ability to preach, teach, and intelligently interpret the Word of God in a manner that effectively develops and edifies Christian disciples.
- Formal education and/or training from an Evangelical Christian seminary, Bible college, or Bible institute.
- Lifestyle exemplary of holiness conforming to the qualifications of a bishop as set forth in the third chapter of 1 Timothy.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

After prayerful evaluation, all candidates must express their interest in being considered for the pastoral vacancy at BBMC by submitting a cover letter, résumé, and photo (headshot and/or family portrait) to
